Curt Young can walk, bike or take his golf cart from his home in The Belmont to the gym, golf course, doctor's office or favorite restaurant.

...that convenience.
Curt Young, a resident of The Belmont in St. Lucie West, said, "My doctor is in St. Lucie West; my bank is here," he said. "Everything I do is in St. Lucie West."

Young recounted how his car only had 200 miles on it 14 months after he bought it.

Whether he's going to Gold's Gym, the golf course or the store, "I ride my bicycle or walk. Or take the golf cart," he said.

Curt Young has made The Belmont his home for two-and-a-half years.

"I'm in the first building that was available," he said. "I was among the first to move in."

The military retiree makes good use of the clubhouse gym and pool. "I get up at three (a.m.), go to the gym and I'm swimming by, I guess, five (a.m.)," he said. "Then I'm at the golf course by 6:30."

Although the golf course is not in The Belmont, it is nearby. So is Gold's Gym, where you will find Young daily, he said.

Young seems to be more than his last name. It seems to be his outlook, too. And it's one of the reasons he likes living at The Belmont.
